Liberty Bell Is To Be Seen At San Diego

San Diego, April 27.—In all probability visitors to the San Diego Exposition in the late summer will have the opportunity to see the famous Liberty Bell, which it is planned to bring from Philadelphia to the Pacific coast for exhibit at both the San Francisco and San Diego Expositions. Opposition in some quarters, due to a fear that the priceless relic of revolutionary days might be injured in transit, has about been overcome, and the Philadelphia city council has approved the idea, insisting, however that the trip be made after July 4, when Philadelphia's annual Independence Day celebration requires the bell. Most of the patriotic societies feel that the best ends will be advanced by exhibiting the relic to the vast throngs who will be at the Expositions during the summer—a patriotic stimulus in a year when patriotism is already inspired by California achievement.

The Liberty Bell announced the independence of the United States, remarks President G. A. Davidson. It is appropriate that it be honored in San Diego, where the history of the Pacific coast of the United States started. Cabrillo, the discoverer, made his first stop here. More than two hundred years later the first permanent settlement on the coast was made, and again San Diego was the site.

The Exposition, civic societies and the schools are cooperating in making arrangements for the celebration of the bell's arrival. It is planned to have every school child of southern California in the parade of welcome and to open the Exposition to school children for at least one day of the bell's stay at the grounds. It will also be the occasion of another mammoth review of soldiers, sailors and marines, eclipsing the two spectacles already held, at the opening and on Vice President's Day.

A prudent mother is always on the watch for symptoms of worms in her children. Paleless, lack of interest in play, and peevishness is the signal for WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. High Temperature Records for April Broken by Heat Wave Extending From Mississippi to Atlantic

Washington, April 26.—A scorching heat wave is hovering over the eastern half of the United States from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast, causing suffering in the cities and serious damage to wheat and other crops in the agricultural districts.

Officials said no important changes were indicated for any region before Wednesday night and that temperatures above the seasonal average would continue generally east of the Rocky mountains.

Tonight's report showed new temperature records established as follows: Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va., 94 degrees; Toledo, O., 90; Grand Rapids, Mich., Cincinnati, O., and Elkins, W. Va., 88; Port Huron, Mich., 86, and Greenbay, Wis., 81.

Members of his family were with him when he died. For a week he had apparently been on the mend. A strenuous month of work, it is believed, caused the breakdown which resulted in his death.
